WELCOME AND SPECIAL ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Rose City. Stumptown. Beervana. Portlandia. Portland has a lot of nicknames to describe a city rich in history and vibrant in culture. We are excited to be hosting the Western Political Science Association annual meeting again. While you are visiting, we hope you will have a chance to experience some of the fun and fascinating things that Portland has to offer.

Portland's history is deeply connected to the surrounding environment. The enormous forests provided plentiful lumber, while the Willamette (pronounced Will-AM-et) and Columbia Rivers provided connections to commerce and salmon for food. The fertile soil of the surrounding farmland continues to drive a prominent agricultural industry. Even the clouds and rain are central to the way the city came to be and thinks of itself. It isn't surprising, then, to learn about the emphasis on sustainability and localism in the city. Or to know that the metro region prides itself on having an urban growth boundary, with open farmland and rural areas in very close proximity to the rest of the city. This connection with the physical surroundings drives the world-class restaurant scene and its emphasis on locally grown ingredients, the countless miles of hiking trails through protected areas both within and adjacent to the city, and the commitment to public transportation and bike commuting that shape city planning.

While you are here, get out and walk around town a bit -- even if it is raining. You will quickly get a sense of the city and all it has to offer. For loads of suggestions and a breakdown of the different neighborhoods near the hotel, check out the restaurant and activity guide. Enjoy your time here and we hope you come back soon!

Local Arrangements Chair

Through its annual conference, the Western Political Science Association has established a reputation for welcoming political science (and political scientists!) in all its and their variety—across subfields, methodological approaches, and substantive interests. For me personally, “the Western” was where I found my “sea legs” in the discipline and, perhaps like many long-time attendees, looking back I can locate the hatching of new projects or the connecting with collaborators by WPSA conference cities. This continuing atmosphere of diversity invigorates and nurtures our imaginations as we tackle the study of politics in our rapidly transforming world.

A welcoming atmosphere and the smooth running of the conference are accomplished only through the dedicated service of many individuals. I thank—and I encourage you to thank personally—the 26 section chairs for their hard work in assembling panels and identifying and recruiting chairs and discussants. As you peruse the program, you may wish you could clone yourself so that you can take advantage of the many terrific panels that showcase the excellent scholarship conducted by WPSA members.

Cloning is also called for to take advantage of the many opportunities for fun and diversion in the city of Portland. Thanks to local arrangements chair Chris Shortell for his dining and entertainment guide. He informs us that “Portland has more breweries per capita than any other city in America,” and, in addition to the slew of restaurants, there are 700 licensed food carts or “pods” where one can eat for less than $10. Bon appétit! Chris also recruited the Portland State University students who have volunteered to staff the registration desk and to assist exhibitors and others. Please let the students know that you appreciate the time they have made in their own busy schedules to support the conference.

Institutional support is also significant to the many opportunities available to WPSA attendees. Thanks are due to the Portland State University (PSU) Mark Hatfield School of Government (especially Director Ron Tammen), the PSU College of Urban and Public Affairs, the PSU Office of Academic Programs and Instruction (OAA), and the PSU Center for Women, Politics and Policy, which have all contributed to support our receptions. And thanks to the Wall Street Journal for the contribution of wine—sure to enliven our conversations.

As program chair, I want to personally thank the many individuals who have offered me ideas, names, and sage advice: past-program chairs and presidents Manny Avalos, Christine Di Stefano, and Andrea Simpson as well as Jose Marichal, Melody Rose, Gary Segura, Justin Vaughn, Kim Williams, and Dvora Yanow. And, as always, Director Richard Clucas and Associate Director Elsa Favila have offered the guidance, support, and attention to detail that makes program chairs look good! They have my heartfelt gratitude.

So welcome to the WPSA Portland conference! Enjoy the conference and the city and, if the opportunity arises, be sure to thank Elsa, Richard, and the many others (members of the Executive Council, prize committees, status committees, etc.) for all they do to make the Western the place we know and love.

THE THEME FOR THE 2013 MEETING: THE EMPIRES STRIKE BACK!

Democratic governance, and its triumph over fascism and state-socialism, have long been facilitated by the ability of capitalism to “reform itself” or, more precisely, to reconcile itself to the modest regulation imposed by popular rule. Regulations and reforms established more than a century ago in the Teddy Roosevelt administration, and expanded from time to time in the 40 years that followed, constrained the exploitation of workers, prevented banks from gambling with the economic system, broke up monopolies, restricted unfair labor practices, and established a social safety net, and in so doing provided fertile ground for an unprecedented rate of economic growth, improvement in human conditions, and the establishment of a large and productive middle class. The stability that followed—and the spread or co-occurrence of this approach (with variation and modifications) in the other industrialized democracies of the world—forestalled the emergence of fascism in the U.S. and simultaneously pushed back against the spread of state-socialism in Europe and beyond.

Since the passage of the Taft Hartley Act in 1947, the US has seen steady erosion in those protections. Workers in the US and Europe bear a greater and greater burden for the social goods provided by their society and receive fewer and fewer benefits while those who have benefitted most from the triumph of capitalism have begun to knock down the reforms achieved in the 20th Century. Hopes of spreading the improved human condition to the global south have foundered on a reconstructed mercantilist and neo-colonial international trade regime that has resulted in exploitation of workers in lesser-developed nations and vast environmental degradation.

Is democracy up to this challenge? Can the free-market global economy again be brought into line with the goals of improving the conditions of humanity? Are our institutions, nation-states, international compacts, and ways of thinking up to this challenge, or will the latter part of the 21st Century more closely resemble the late 19th than the late 20th? While the WPSA welcomes proposals on all political and governmental questions of interest to the discipline, in 2013, we would like to pay particular attention to domestic and international inequality, its causes and its consequences, and whether democratic institutions are up to the task of addressing either.

Note: All participants in the program are required to preregister for the meeting by early December.

RESTAURANTS

There are few tasks more daunting than trying to write a restaurant guide for Portland. Put simply, the restaurants here are excellent. Those that are not, do not last long. Even some good ones don't make it. The following restaurants are just the tip of the iceberg and you are unlikely to go wrong just wandering into any restaurant on NW 23rd, for example. The restaurant guide is organized by neighborhood to also give you a sense of the city.

$- Cheap, under $15

$$- Moderate, $16-$30

$$$- Expensive, $31 and above

Waterfront/PSU

This is the area closest to the Marriott. All of these restaurants are within easy walking distance, most within four or five blocks. There are some good culinary options here, but it is a little more limited than traveling just a little further on the Streetcar.

Veritable Quandary- 1220 SW 1st Ave. (503-227-7342), $$-$$$

Classic Portland restaurant, this place is very popular for lunch but also a good choice for dinner.

Carafe- 200 SW Market St. (503-248-0004), $$

Lovely French-bistro atmosphere with the food to go with it.

Murata- 200 SW Market St. (503-227-0080), $$

One of the best sushi restaurants in Portland, with authentic tatami rooms.

Tom's 1st Ave Bento- 1236 SW 1st Ave. (503-241-3373), $

Cheap, tasty, and healthy bento for lunch.

PORTLAND DINING AND ENTERTAINMENT GUIDE

Pizzicato- 1708 SW 6th Ave. (503-227-5800), $

More pizza (a little better quality than Pizza Schmizza) and beers from another local franchise.

Café Yumm- 1806 SW 6th Ave. (503-226-9866), $

Rice bowls with their Yumm sauce for lunch.

Higgins- 1239 SW Broadway (503-222-9070), $$

One of the originators of the locavore movement, Higgins always serves seasonal, fresh meals excellently prepared.

Nel Centro- 1408 SW 6th Ave. (503-484-1099), $$

Enjoy the fire pits outside in the evening, they have a great happy hour and lots of light but tasty food.

Food carts, $

Lots of choices, close by, cheap and easy for lunch. See food cart write-up for more details.

Downtown

Pioneer Square is the heart of downtown and is known as “Portland’s Living Room.” That doesn’t necessarily mean that it is Portland’s dining room, but there are some good (though higher-priced) options.

Portland City Grill- 111 SW 5th Ave. (503-450-0030), $$$

Restaurant at the top of a tall office tower with commanding views, but you pay for it. Fresh seafood with pan-Asian influences.

Jake’s Famous Crawfish- 401 SW 12th Ave. (503-226-1419), $$

Portland’s turn of the century landmark restaurant specializing in fish dishes.

Voodoo Doughnut- 22 SW 3rd Ave. (503-235-2666), $

Not recommended for a meal necessarily, but it is definitely a Portland institution. Think Maple Bacon doughnuts.

Mother’s Bistro & Bar- 409 SW 2nd Ave. (503-464-1122), $$

Best known for their breakfasts, but all meals are excellent here. Comfort food at its best.

Kenny & Zook’s Deli- 1038 SW Stark St. (503-222-3354), $

Traditional Jewish deli food done right.

PORTLAND DINING AND ENTERTAINMENT GUIDE

The Urban Farmer- 525 SW Morrison St., 8th Fl. (503-222-4900), $$$
Outstanding steakhouse that comes with a lovely location and eye-popping prices.

South Park Seafood Grill&Wine Bar-901 SW Salmon St.(503-326-1300),$$-$$$
Some fine seafood and an excellent wine list make this a great place to linger.

The Pearl District

Once you cross to the east of Burnside, you enter the Pearl District. Home to Powell's Books and the Brewery Blocks, this area is an example of urban rejuvenation. It has transformed from a run-down industrial sector to home of many art galleries, shops, and excellent restaurants. Take some time to wander around and perhaps stop in at one of the many chocolatiers, local brewpubs, or distilleries.

Andina- 1314 NW Glisan St. (503-228-9535), $$$
Novo-Peruvian cuisine that is simply outstanding with some amazingly creative combinations in the tapas-style plates. Habanero flan, anyone?

Bluehour- 250 NW 13th Ave. (503-226-3394), $$$
Right across from Nike's ad agency, Wieden+Kennedy, this place has both style and great food.

Kin Restaurant- 524 NW 14th Ave. (503-228-4546), $$
Relatively new restaurant serving Asian fusion to great reviews.

Piazza Italia- 1129 NW Johnson St. (503-478-0619), $$
Does the genuine Italian atmosphere make the food taste better or does the great food make the atmosphere more Italian? Hard to tell with this fun, family-owned place.

Giorgio's Restaurant- 1131 NW Hoyt St. (503-221-1888), $$$
Another nice Italian restaurant in the Pearl, a little more upscale than Piazza Italia but still with good food.

iOba!, 555 NW 12th Ave. (503-228-6161), $$$
Nuevo latino cuisine in a romantic setting.

PORTLAND DINING AND ENTERTAINMENT GUIDE

Ping- 102 NW 4th Ave. (503-229-7464), $$

Technically in Chinatown, which is adjacent to the Pearl District, this Asian fusion restaurant has lots of good choices for a tasty meal.

Northwest District

This area, west of the Pearl, includes the popular NW 23rd Ave. (also known as Trendy-Third) lined with restaurants, galleries, and shops. It also includes the Historic Alphabet District, which is so-called because each of the north-south streets is in alphabetical order. Simpsons fans may recognize some familiar names like Flanders and Lovejoy.

Wildwood- 1221 NW 21st Ave. (503-248-9663), $$$

Quintessential Portland restaurant with Northwest influenced food and wines. Can't miss food, though there are not many vegetarian options.

Paley's Place- 1204 NW 21st Ave. (503-243-2403), $$$

One of the most consistently excellent restaurants in Portland whose chef recently won a competition on Iron Chef America.

Ken's Artisan Bakery- 338 NW 21st Ave. (503-248-2202), $

One of the top bakeries in Portland- great pastries, cookies, and bread as well as comfortable places to relax and enjoy your food.

Papa Haydn- 701 NW 23rd Ave. (503-228-7317), $$

Best known for their incredible desserts, the food is no slouch either.

Caffe Mingo- 807 NW 21st Ave. (503-226-4646), $$$

Great pastas that tend to run on the pricey side. Also check out the neighboring Bar Mingo, which has a separate menu and lots of wines.

Serratto- 2112 NW Kearney St. (503-221-1195), $$

A wide variety of Mediterranean cuisine here in a simple rustic setting.

Inner Southeast

Across the Willamette River from the Marriott is actually where most of the city's population lives. There are a number of good choices for meals, although some will require either a cab or bus ride if you don't have a car.

Vindalho- 2038 SE Clinton St. (503-467-4550), $$

Modern interpretations of classic Indian dishes, always a favorite.

PORTLAND DINING AND ENTERTAINMENT GUIDE

a Cena Ristorante- 7742 SE 13th St. (503-206-3291), $$

Great Italian restaurant in the Sellwood neighborhood with creative and high-quality dishes.

Nuestra Cocina- 2135 SE Division St. (503-232-2135), $$

Superb cuisine from the Oaxaca, Yucatan, and Vera Cruz regions of Mexico- their margaritas are also highly prized.

Bamboo Sushi- 310 SE 28th Ave. (503) 232-5255 $$

Amazing, creative sushi and guilt-free- they were named by Fish2Fork as being the most sustainable seafood restaurant in the U.S.

Beaker & Flask- 727 SE Washington St. (503-235-8180), $$$

Combines a stunning mastery of mixology with meat-heavy dishes that makes it a perennial favorite.

Pok Pok- 3226 SE Division St. (503-232-1387), $$

Pok Pok rose to the top of Portland foodies' hearts by introducing flavorful Thai street food unlike anything you would find in your typical Thai restaurant. Spicy, but delicious.

Toro Bravo- 120 NE Russell St. (503-281-4464), $$-$$$

Tapas that make it a regular winner of Best Restaurant in the local papers. Very crowded, so get there early or plan to wait.

Beast- 5425 NE 30th Ave. (503-841-6968), $$$

A turn on Top Chef Masters for Chef Naomi Pommeroy (not to mention the James Beard award) brought a lot of well-deserved attention. As the name suggests, it is meat-centric in amazingly creative ways. The prices are as high as the expectations, but worth it.

Le Pigeon- 738 E Burnside St. (503-546-8796), $$$

The top French restaurant in Portland, with James Beard Rising Chef Gabe Rucker consistently leaving diners in awe.

Castagna- 1752 SE Hawthorne Blvd. (503-231-7373), $$$

Though star chef Matt Lightner headed off to New York, this place reopened under his protégé Justin Woodward and has rocketed back to the top of the Portland food charts with exquisite Northwest cuisine.

BREWPUBS

Though not confined to a particular geographic area, the brewpubs in Portland are deserving of their own separate section. Portland has more breweries per capita than any other city in America. With clean water and extensive hops grown in the Willamette Valley, Portland was a natural center for craft brewing. Known, for good reason, as “Beervana,” it is tough to leave the city without sampling at least some of the fine brews available. Here is a list of just some of the local brew pubs:

Bridgeport Brewpub. 1313NW Marshall. Lots of fine beer and some excellent pizza.

Deschutes Brewery. 210 NW 11th Ave. Excellent beers with lots of selections not available elsewhere as well as some tasty food.

Rogue Brewery. 1717 SW Park Ave (on the PSU campus) and 1339 NW Flanders St. Try the Hazelnut Brown, but be aware that the prices run on the high side.

Lucky Labrador Brew Pub. 915 SE Hawthorne. Good luck finding a seat.

Widmer Brothers Gasthaus. 955 N. Russell. Widmer put Hefeweizen on the beer map.

Hopworks Urban Brewery. 2944 SE Powell Blvd. Delicious beers and very family friendly with kid play areas.

McMenamins Pubs. They’re all over town with good beer and trademark hamburgers. A few close to the Marriott hotel are listed below:

Market Street Pub. 1526 SW 10th Ave. Right next to the PSU campus.

Crystal Ballroom Brewery. 1332 W. Burnside.

Mission Theater and Pub. 1624 NW Glisan.

Finally, if your tastes run more towards distilled spirits, you are also in luck. Portland has experienced an explosion of craft distilling, which can be sampled in Distillery Row, concentrated in SE Portland around SE 7th and Hawthorne.

FOOD CARTS

These deserve their own write-up, provided by local connoisseur Ian McDonald:

Real foodies love great street food, and for ambition and originality, nothing tops the streets of Portland. The city is packed with terrific restaurants, but its definitive food scene is found in the carts. In the last few years, Portland redefined the food cart concept, thanks to its flexible regulatory environment, and its ability to concentrate its food vendors into a few prime locations. Not to mention diversity, culinary skill, independence, and competitiveness that distinguish the city's cart culture.

Portland's 700 licensed mobile food establishments don't actually move around. Instead, they cluster in fixed locations around the city, also called pods. We call these establishments "carts", but the term is a misnomer; usually, the food is prepared and served from trailers, tricked out with a kitchen, shelf in front, and connection to the pod's water and electricity.

You'll find over 200 carts conveniently located in downtown, mostly situated in four pods. From the Marriott Hotel, the closest pod sits on SW 4th Avenue between SW Hall and SW College streets, near Portland State University (about a half-mile walk). Another pod occupies parking space at SW 5th and Stark, and another is close by at SW 3rd between Stark and Washington. The biggest and most renowned cart pod sits on the parking lots from SW 9th Avenue to SW 11th Avenues and SW Alder St (about .8 miles from the Marriott). With its 60 carts, SW 9th Avenue and Alder Street is your preferred destination if you love the tyranny of choice.

This pod is home to the cart scene's "culinary rock stars." Its parking lot is situated across the street from a culinary school, launching a number of aspiring chefs whose talent and aspirations exceeded their budgets. The upscale trend is illustrated at Addy's Sandwich Bar, a cart where you can find chicken pate, confit, and a sandwich with Godiva chocolate and sea salt. Across SW 10th sits Nong Khao Man Gai, (with a new branch at SW 4th and Hall) boasting multiple appearances on The Food Network. You can also find "Basketball Chicken Wings" prepared in a marinade of Chinese whiskey and coca cola. Nearby, you can get delicious bacon and cheeseburger dumplings at The Dump Truck.

The SW 9th and Alder pod also features The People's Pig, a creation of a transplanted chef from Portland's James Beard Award winning restaurant Nostrana. The People's Pig serves Porkchetta, a pork roast wrapped in a pork rind and slowly baked. You can find incredible Liège waffles at the Gaufre Gourmet on SW 9th, available with goodies like arugula, pulled pork, and bacon. Need a deep fried anchovy fix? Head to Euro Trash at the corner of SW 10th and Washington.

The closer SW 4th and Hall pod is somewhat smaller, but has some excellent choices and, unsurprisingly, is an extremely popular destination for the Portland State community. The Portland Soup Company pod serves an amazing pork butt sandwich. The famous Nong Khao Man Gai just opened a second trailer at this location. If you've been looking for great vegan barbecue, your search is over: the Home Grown Smoker has it.

Carts can also offer world-class gut busters. At SW 5th and Stark, the Brunch Box serves a modest 1/3 lb hamburger wedged between two grilled cheese sandwiches. Close by at Tabor Czech Food, you can order up the famous "schnitzelwich", a one pound serving of schnitzel perfection with paprika-pepper sauce and a ciabatta roll. These trailers have more restrained options, and the pods have trailers with every conceivable Asian and Latin American food.

Finding your Dream Cart:

- Because of the enormous number of carts, and their diverse locations, technology is your friend. You'll find lots of online support for cart research, but you need look no further than Brett Burmeister's Foodcartsportland.com (www.foodcartsportland.com). The site has a well-organized index of cuisines and locations, links to cart menus and hours, plus plenty of useful commentary from diners and reviews. For 99 cents, you can download their handy phone app, so you're ready to decide when you hit the pod.

ACTIVITIES

As with good food, Portlanders believe in having lots of activities. These are some highlights that you may want to take in while in town.

Portland is the "Rose City" for good reason. If you head up in to Washington Park overlooking the city in the West Hills, you can see the International Test Rose Garden with its lovely vistas of the city and Mt. Hood in the distance (assuming clear weather, of course). Next to the Rose Garden is the Japanese Garden, which is one of the most authentic Japanese Gardens outside of Japan. A little further west in Washington Park is Pittock Mansion, the house built by the original publisher of the Oregonian. It offers tours and commands impressive views of the Willamette River, downtown, and Mt. Hood. Of course, if you are in the mood for hiking, you can just take trails from Washington Park into Forest Park, which stretches for 8 miles along the West Hills. It is one of the largest urban forest reserves and is crisscrossed with forty miles of trails.

Closer to the hotel, you can make your way down to the Tom McCall Waterfront Park, which extends along the western shore of the Willamette River. The path along the park makes for a nice stroll, jog, or bike ride and you can extend it by crossing along the bottom of the Steel Bridge to the Eastbank Esplanade. Or on Saturday morning, walk a few blocks up to the Farmer's Market in the Park Blocks at PSU. Loads of vendors offer fresh fruits, vegetables, seafood, artisanal breads and cheeses, meats, coffees, and prepared foods. You can also make your way a little further down the Park Blocks to visit the Portland Art Museum (1219 S.W. Park Ave.).

For a different shopping experience check out the Portland Saturday Market (Skidmore Fountain MAX stop), a large open-air arts and crafts market. Nearby is also the Lan Su Chinese Garden (Northwest Third Avenue and Everett Street), an authentically built Ming Dynasty style garden. In the mood to see why Portland's unofficial motto is "Keep Portland Weird?" Check out the 24 Hour Church of Elvis (408 N.W. Couch St.). If you can make any sense of it, let us know, because we are still trying to figure it out.

For bibliophiles in the crowd, there is no better place to visit than Powell's Books (1005 W. Burnside St.). Just try not to get lost (figuratively or literally) in the book stacks covering one entire city block.

If you are interested in sports, the Portland Trailblazers (NBA) will be playing at home on Thursday, March 22nd at the Rose Garden. Come see why Portland fans are considered some of the best in the league. Sadly, the Portland Timbers (MLS) won't be playing at home during the conference, because they offer an unrivaled fan experience even if you aren't following the activities on the field. They are playing an away game on March 24th, so expect the local bars, particularly the pubs near Jeld-Wen Field, to be filled with green scarf-wearing fans cheering loudly.

If you find yourself here on a clear day and want a beautiful view, try out the Aerial Tram running from the South Waterfront up to Oregon Health and Sciences University. Tickets are $4 each, so it isn't cheap, but it can afford great views of Mt. Hood, Mt. St. Helens, and the downtown skyline.

For more family-oriented activities, check out the Oregon Museum of Science and Industry (OMSI; 1945 S.E. Water Ave.) with five giant halls filled with interactive exhibits. In Washington Park, there are a trio of attractions close to one another. The Oregon Zoo, Children's Museum, and World Forestry Center all share the same parking lot and offer a variety of activities. Finally, there is an impressive new indoor playground called PlayDate PDX in the Pearl District (1434 NW 17th Ave) with over 7500 sq. ft. of playgrounds built on a castle theme.

Outside the City

For those interested in leaving the city, you have some tough choices to make. Do you drive the hour and a half to Mt. Hood where you can ski at any of the three resorts up there or just visit the famous Timberline Lodge (featuring, among many other attractions, the ax from the movie The Shining)? Perhaps the hour to the Columbia River Gorge, featuring countless waterfalls including the 620 ft. Multnomah Falls? If you would prefer to go west, you can get to the coast in less than two hours on Hwy. 26 and visit the communities of Seaside and Cannon Beach (which has the picturesque Haystack Rock and Tillamook Rock Lighthouse). Further down the coast, you can visit Lincoln City or Newport, home of the Oregon Coast Aquarium.

Turning to the south, visitors are drawn to the renowned vineyards of the Willamette Valley. One of the centers of wine country is in the town of Dundee, just about forty-five minutes south of Portland. Check out wineries such as Domaine Serene, Sokol Blosser, and Ponzi. Which direction to choose? You can't go wrong.
